Message from our Executive Director

We are looking to meet the needs of the families and communities we serve to the best of our ability. We are using a culturally safe, trauma-informed best-practice in order to serve and come to a sense of who we are as Indigenous people. We return to our Indigenous values that kept us strong such as kindness, compassion, generosity, and respect.

We send all the love and support out to families who are grieving the multiple losses and who are seeking safe spaces to work through intergenerational pain.

Chuu,
Lisa Robinson

New Programs cont'd

Supportive Recovery

We are pleased to inform that we will be opening a Supportive Recovery Program in Spring 2023. Currently, we are undergoing renovations of our two largest units to suit the needs of individual clients.

We are seeking new hires to join our team.

Rebuilding the Circle

Last but not least, we are excited to share that a new program is in development called "Rebuilding the Circle." This program aims to address traumas and needs that resulted from sexual violence.
